1. Uvod

1.1 Korišćeni programski jezici

Za izradu ovog web sajta sam koristio sledeće jezike i biblioteke: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, jQuery, RSS, Sitemap, XML, XSLT i AJAX. Ceo kod je napisan u NotePad++ tekstualnom editoru.

1.2 Opis funkcionalnosti

Sajt ima sledeće funkcionalnosti: - JS padajući meni na svakoj od stranica. (sopstveni kod) - Provera podataka preko regularnih izraza u formi za registraciju. - RSS i Sitemap stilizovani preko XSLT-a.

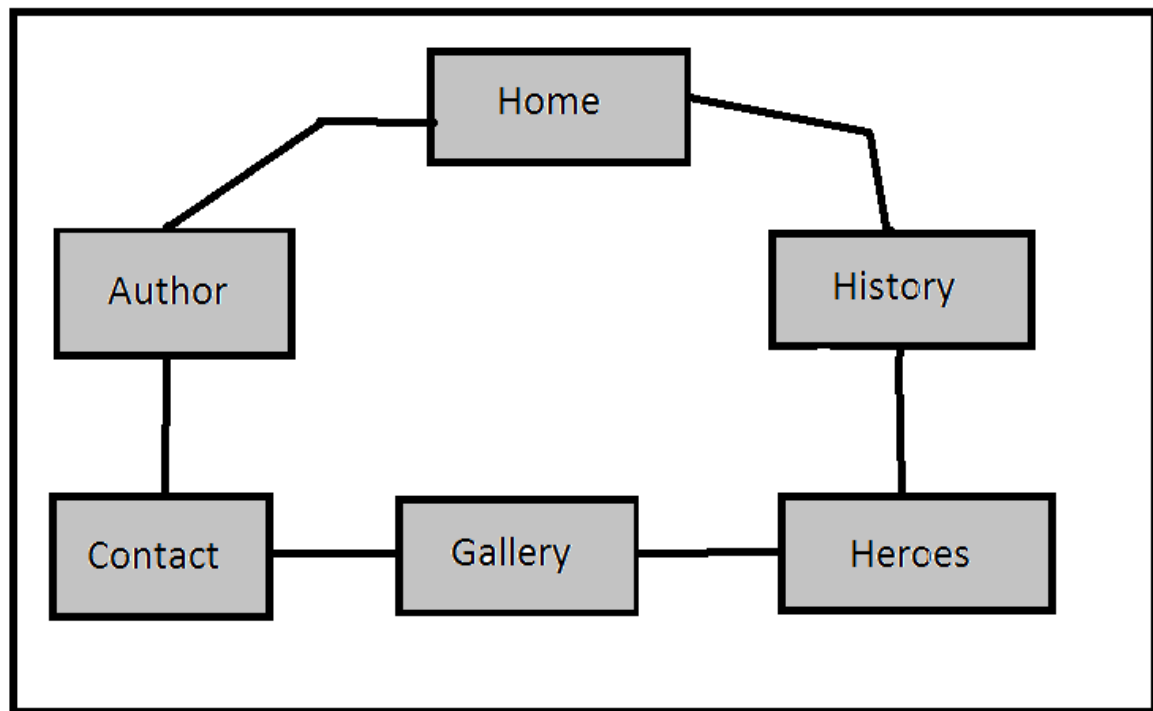

(sopstveni kod) - Upis u XML pomoću JavaScript-a, a zatim pretragom prikaz istog koristeći AJAX.
(sopstveni kod) . (sopstveni kod) - Slider u JS-u se nalazi na početnoj strani (sopstveni kod).: Svi podaci o članovima nalaze se u jednom XML fajlu.

1.3 Template

1.4 Korišćeni CSS (sopstveni kod), kod sa internet za fancybox.

2. Organizacija

2.1 Organizaciona šema

2.2 Mapa sajta

online battle arena (MOBA) video game developed and published by Valve Corporation. The game is the stand-alone sequel to Defense of the Ancients (DotA), which was a community-created mod for Blizzard Entertainment's Warcraft III: Reign of Chaos and its expansion pack, The Frozen Throne. Dota 2 is played in matches between two teams that consist of five players, with both teams occupying their own separate base on the map. Each of the ten players independently control a powerful character, known as a "hero", that all feature unique abilities and different styles of play. During a match, a player and their team collects experience points and items for their heroes in order to push through the opposing team's defenses. A team wins by being the first to destroy a large structure located in the opposing team's base, called the "Ancient". by the pseudonymous designer "Eul". An expansion pack for Warcraft III, entitled The Frozen Throne, was released later that year; a series of Defense of the Ancients clone mods for the new game competed for popularity. DotA: Allstars by Steve Feak was the most successful, and Feak, with his friend Steve Mescon, created the official Defense of the Ancients community website and the holding company DotA-Allstars, LLC. When Feak retired from DotA: Allstars in 2005, a friend, under the pseudonym "IceFrog", became its lead designer. The popularity of Defense of the Ancients increased significantly: it became one of the most popular mods in the world, and, by 2008, a prominent eSports title. IceFrog and Mescon later had a falling out in May 2009, which prompted the former to establish a new community website at playdota.com. addition to powerful hero-specific abilities. Each hero has at least four abilities, and these are the primary method of fighting. The most powerful ability for each hero is known as their "ultimate", which requires them to have an experience level of six in order to learn and use. In order to prevent abilities from being spammed without consequence, a magic system in the game exists. Activating an ability costs a hero some of their "mana points", which regenerate slowly over time. Using an ability will also cause it to enter a cooldown phase, in which the ability can not be used again until a timer counts down to zero. All heroes have three attributes: strength, intelligence, and agility, which affect health points, mana points, and attack speed, respectively. Each hero has one primary attribute, which influences non-ability damage. Heroes begin each game with an experience level of one, only having access to one of their abilities, but are able to level up and become more powerful during the course of the game, up to a maximum level of 25. Whenever a hero gains an experience level, the player is able to unlock another of their abilities or improve one already learned. If a hero runs out of health points and dies, a timer begins to count down until they respawn in their base.

<h1>Pudge</h1>

Pudge, the Butcher, is a melee strength hero feared for his incredible gank prowess.

Though he may not look like it, he is one of the strongest gankers and disablers in the entire game, with his combo of three active abilities proving more than sufficient to kill fragile enemy heroes in the early and mid-game. His signature ability, Meat Hook, is a grapple that is thrown out in a straight line; if it snags a target, it will drag them back to Pudge, dealing enormous damage to it if it was an enemy. Although it is difficult to use effectively, it is a very powerful ganking and initiation spell due to its ability to displace enemies, and also has the utility of being able to save an endangered ally. He can then follow up with his ultimate, Dismember, a channeled disable that deals further damage to the target over a few seconds and increases in lethality the more strength Pudge has, while also healing Pudge for its duration. During this period, he can activate Rot to deal even more damage while he is consuming his foe, and use it to slow and finish them off if they survive the initial assault. three of them - Quas, Wex, and Exort - are reagents and one is his special ultimate Invoke.

The three abilities he learns throughout leveling up can have three instances, which serve as the basic ingredients or components for him to create a new ability using his ultimate. Once the reagents or elements are combined, he can invoke one out of ten different abilities. All of his invoked abilities are capable of a multitude of actions, from damaging enemies to aiding his allies, and even saving himself from danger. His three reagents can be upgraded up to level 7 which determines the power and potency of his invoked abilities, making it more powerful than an ordinary spell. Because of this, he can be played in almost any role possible.
